

KNOW IN HOURS, NOT DAYS

Next-morning results for all common
(and not-so-common) infections.... Measles too!

The Only PCR Test Delivering Next-Morning Measles Results

HealthTrackRx is the only molecular lab offering next-morning measles test results, while other labs often take 5–7 days. That delay risks further transmission and delayed care.

More Than Measles

Trusted by Physicians for
Head-to-Toe Testing

HealthTrackRx offers a broad menu of RT-PCR testing that detects both common and atypical pathogens from head-to-toe. With next-morning results and nationwide access, we empower providers to detect and respond to infectious threats—before they spread.

HealthTrackRx's RT-PCR testing technology gives providers the ability to test for pathogens with greater accuracy across a complete menu of common infections. We even make sample collection easy and deliver reporting with antibiotic-resistance genes, so patients receive the right treatment the first time.
